"Anxiety"
Edvard Munch
1894

"Morning, Interior"
Maximilien Luce
1890

"The Colossus"
Francisco de Goya
1808-1812

"Knight, Death, and the Devil"
Albrecht Dürer
1513

"Zodiac"
Alphonse Mucha
1896

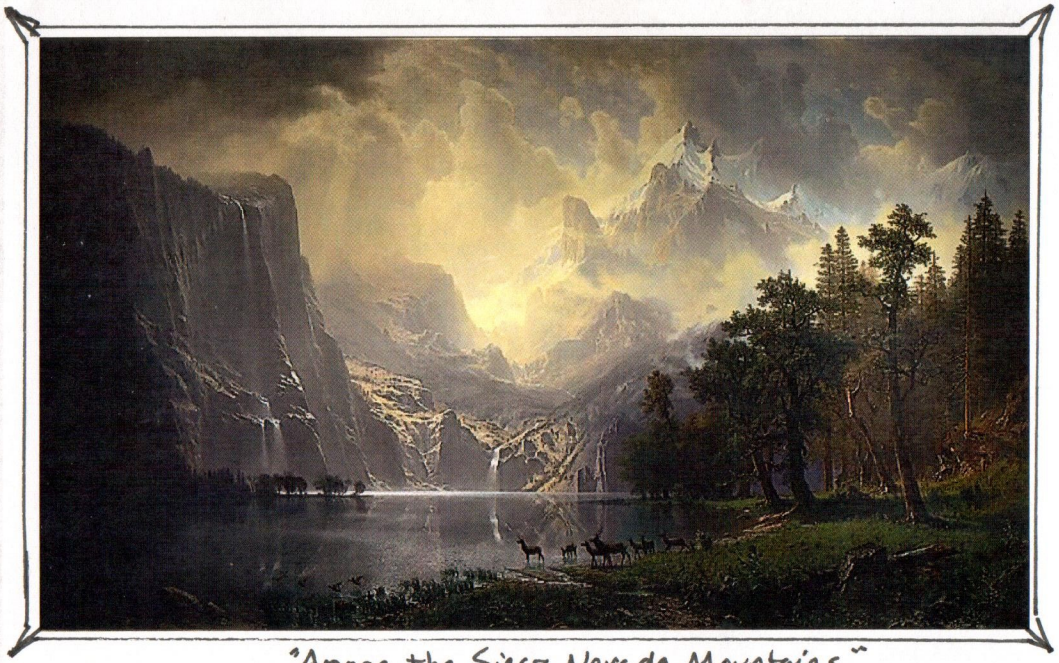
"The Lament for Icarus"
Herbert James Draper
1898

You don't have to be an "art person" to like things, and you don't have to explain why they appeal to you (or don't).

Recommended:

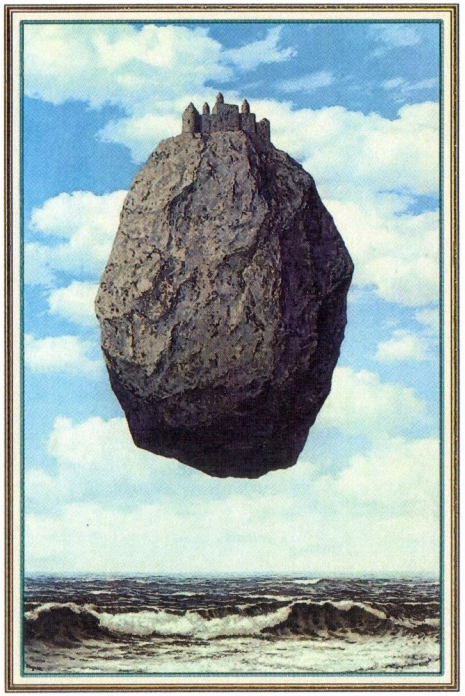
- Game: Occupy White Walls (Steam)
- App: Art-droid
- Museums: National Portrait Gallery, Getty, Huntington Library
- Or just grab something from 709/759!

Thomas Vose, CC-BY-NC 1/16/23

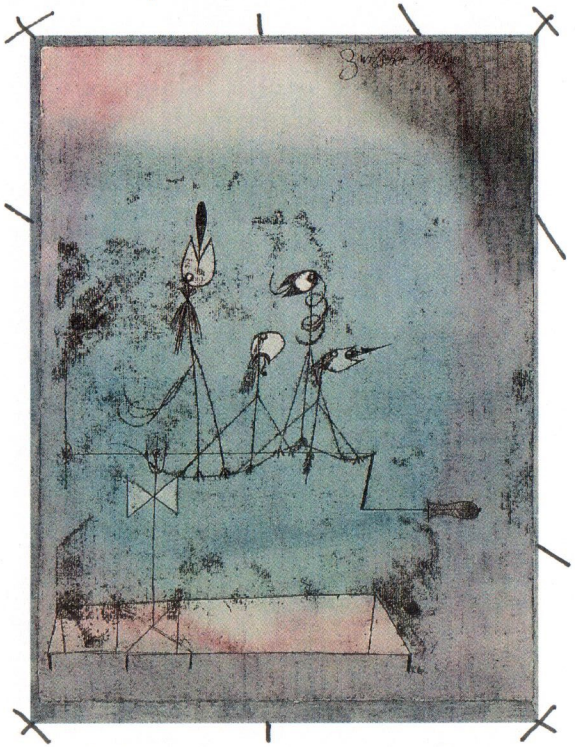


"Among the Sierra Nevada Mountains"
Albert Bierstadt, 1868

"Luncheon of the Boating Party"
Pierre-Auguste Renoir, 1881



"Castle of the Pyrenees"
Rene Magritte
1959



"The Twittering Machine"
Paul Klee
1922

"Please Don't Slam the Door"
Jacek Yerka
1993